Why Nakabayashi's album?

The self-adhesive sheet coated by PET (polyethylene terephthalate) can protect it from ultraviolet which the light resistance is 5 times higher than that of non-coating sheet. With this, the risk of color-deterioration like yellowing can decrease very much. The quality is, even under high temperature and humidity for a long time, less prone to deformity or deterioration. Besides, the protective film covering the sheet also shut the air which may bring color deterioration of the picture printed by ink-jet printer.
